

The Horace Livermore house (top) was remodeled by Willis Polk, who then built his own house (above) just behind it. Two of the four Worcester cottages (center left) complete an exclusive enclave on Vallejo Street at the top of Russian Hill, one of the most historic sites in the city.