

The "Rain Barrel House," at 61 San Andreas Way in St. Francis Wood, is a picturesque cottage, reminiscent of the Cotswolds, designed by Henry Gutterson, who designed several of the houses in the development. The flagstone walk, the quaint tiled roof, the simple, massive door, the plain wooden shutters, the copper gutter and downspout, and of course the rain barrel itself combine to make a single, charming impression.